

Supervisors Drop 10
Jobs; Snub Executive

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors whittled 10 positions from the requested 36 new county positions for 1945-46, for a saving to the county of $17,625, but it rebuffed County Executive Frederick Peterson by failing to heed his recommendation that several other proposed jobs be eliminated.

The supervisors, who have spent considerable time going over the salary budget with department heads, deducted $22,735 from the proposed salary budget of $151,665, but the establishment of a veterans' service department at their regular meeting yesterday adds $5040 to salaries. Another $120 is added in the planning commission's office.

Creation of the position of crew foreman in Agricultural Comr. Max J. Leonard's department was allowed in the salary ordinance but the figure of $1920 was eliminated from the budget. This position will not be filled unless one of the staff is called into military service, and the foreman's salary would come from the salary set up for the departing staff member, it was explained.

Two public health nurses positions in the nursing section of the health and welfare department were dropped for a saving of $4320. One typist clerk in the medical welfare section was dropped, decreasing the budget by $1560. In the social service general welfare section, one employee will go back to minimum salary for a saving of $450.

Four practical nurses asked for by Community Hospital will be in the ordinance only, for a saving of $3120. No salary for two of the nurses had been requested, but salaries for two of them had been asked. It was explained that there would be no need for the practical nurses unless registered nurses were unavailable, and in such event the salaries would come from the registered nurses' fund.

Planning Advisor Ronald Campbell's salary was set at a straight $2040 a year, with no war bonus. This is an increase of $450 in the budget, but it does not raise his actual earnings, as he now receives a war bonus. He is a part time employee.

Three positions have been set up in the veterans' service department, but money will be raised for only the positions of veterans' service officer and his assistant, or $5040 set up in the budget.

Among positions which Peterson labeled "unnecessary" and recommended that the board eliminate, but which the board approved anyway, were supervisor of elections and registration, surgical nurse at

Looking For Me, Boys?

Harry Gilman, 50-year-old salesman from Hollywood, appeared at the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office Tuesday noon and requested information concerning a warrant which, he said, he understood had been issued for his arrest.

An obliging Gene Cengel made several telephone calls, one of which resulted in an affirmative answer from the Redwood City Police Department.

Officers arrived, served the warrant charging failure to provide for minor children, and took Gilman to the police station where he was booked before being released on $100 cash bail.

The warrant was issued on complaint of Evelyn Von Kries, 532 Hamilton St., Redwood City, police said.

Telephone Service
Special for UNCIO

One of the most elaborate single communication jobs ever undertaken on the coast was required to provide facilities for serving the United Nations Conference on International Organization. A system adequate to serve a small city was established in a month to meet the requirements of delegates, their staffs, and the press and radio, according to M. A. Gooding, local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., which handled the big San Francisco installation job.

The telephone system centers in the Veterans War Memorial Building, where, on Mar. 17, the telephone company began installation of cables, wires, and a switchboard with positions for ten operators. By Apr. 15, attendants were handling calls over the new equipment for International 3300, the special prefix and number designated for the conference. The switchboard serves more than 400 lines, and is connected by 1100 wires with telephones at conference headquarters, and the switchboards of major hotels where delegates are quartered. The conference has its own telephone directory, containing about 1000 listings, and having a first edition of several thousand copies for use of the delegates and representatives.

Other telephone features include two large attended public telephone offices in the Veterans Building, one expressly for the use of newspaper people. The attendants and pages in these offices are attractively uniformed. The company also installed scores of teletype machines, and arranged an extensive network of radio transmission channels for transcontinental and foreign broadcasts.

Cordial greetings were extended to the conference on behalf of the telephone company by its president, N. R. Powley.

Community Hospital; youth counselor for the juvenile home; chief of communicable diseases, health division; sanitary inspector, sanitation division, and telephone operator and information clerk at Community Hospital.

Position of communicable disease officer was set up in the salary ordinance but not in the salary budget.

Hearing on the salary ordinance will be held May 22.

Supervisors
OK Annex to Relief Home

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday gave its approval to revised plans for addition to the County Relief Home west of Belmont—the first of numerous postwar projects to be approved.

Although cost of the addition has not been determined, it is estimated to be approximately $150,000.

Approval by the supervisors gives the County Board of Architects the go-ahead signal to work out detailed plans. The addition provides for 64 beds and services, sun balcony on second floor and roof deck. This will bring the total number of beds to 151 for residents of the home.

The two-story revised concrete building has provision for the future addition of another story and lends itself to expansion to the north.

E. G. Kost, manager of the relief home, located on Crystal Springs Rd., explained that the home has been filled to capacity for the past six months and predicted that half of the addition will be filled shortly after it is constructed. There are now 25 or 30 persons on the waiting list, he said.

Tuesday's plans do not include an addition to employees' quarters. This project is expected to be acted upon later.

The revised plans for the relief home were recommended to the board by the County Planning Commission and have the approval of Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of the County Department of Public Health and Welfare.

A resolution from the 26th Dist. of the American Legion asking that preference be given disabled and non-disabled veterans' service examinations was referred to the civil service commission. Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey argued that the matter was one for the board of supervisors to decide, but Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan advised that the policy must be set by the civil service commission.

County Executive Frederick Peterson recommended that the civil service commission amend its rules and regulations to conform with such veterans' preference as is set forth by the federal and state civil service commissions.

The supervisors passed an ordinance setting up a veterans' service office, and approved the salary range for employees of the office as recommended by the commission: Veterans' service officer, $200-260; assistant veterans' service officer, $180-220; and stenographer clerk, $110-150. The war bonus is in addition.

Owen M. Broyles, personnel director and secretary to the commission, explained that the commission would be unable to hold examinations to secure eligible lists for the service officer and assistant but that appointment could be made on a provisional basis.

Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds recommended that the starting salary of the veterans' service officer be $240 a month.

In this day and time $200 is not a lot of money," Manuel F. Cunha of Half Moon Bay was appointed to the board of directors of the County Soil Conservation Dist., to succeed Angelo Olcese.

Approval was given for rezoning of property at Princeton to allow the Princeton Packers to erect a fish cannery.

Sgt. Nick Jurian Home on Furlough From Pacific War

Having spent three years in the Pacific Theater, Sgt. Nick Jurian of Redwood City has arrived home on a 50-day furlough. He will report back to the Philippines at the conclusion of his furlough. The 23-year-old infantryman saw action on Hollandia, Leyte and Mindanao.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jurian of Portola Rd., the sergeant enlisted in the army in April, 1942, and after a month of basic training was sent overseas. He wears the Combat Infantryman Badge and two battle stars on his Asiatic-Pacific ribbon. Jurian graduated from Sequoia High School in June, 1940. His brother-in-law and sister, 1st Lt. and Mrs. Stan Wiechert, have arrived from Frederick, Okla., to visit Jurian. A brother, Frank, is employed at the Stanford post office and a sister, Claire, is a junior at Sequoia High School.

These Are the Rules for Growing Fine Tomatoes

Tomatoes on the Fence Vie With Marigolds in Beauty.

Tomatoes are the Victory garden's most important crop. Even the smallest garden can grow them and get a good yield for the space. A well-grown plant should yield a peck of fruit or more, properly cared for, fed and watered.

When space is limited, plants can be staked, or trained to a fence, or trellis, and take up no more room than a row of carrots. Each plant yields a little less, but the fruit will average better, and mature earlier, and more plants can be grown in less space. Heaviest yields are obtained from plants that sprawl on the ground, but they take lots more room.

Plants are usually grown under protection, or purchased, and set out after all danger of frost is over. They mature fruit earlier than is possible by sowing seed in the garden; but not as much earlier as might be supposed. Many tests have shown that plants directly seeded in the garden, bear only a week or two later than those started indoors. But for the earliest crop, use plants of an early variety, started indoors.

Staked tomatoes may be pruned to a single stem, or allowed two or three stems as desired. Be sure to use varieties that grow full sized vines, if you prune them. Small vines, also called determinate varieties, should not be pruned, but on the ground they can be planted as close as two feet each way.

Tomatoes begin with a single stem, but at the joint of each leaf a branch develops. This branch may be cut off when small, and by cutting all or allowing some of them to grow you can shape the plant to a single, double, or triple stemmed plant as you prefer.

Tomatoes do not cling to support but must be tied with some material that will not cut the vine. Fruit should not be exposed to direct sun, as that causes scalding, so never remove leaves from pruned plants. Plants need heavy feeding, and lots of water. Irregular water supply causes black decayed spots, known as blossom-end rot. A much about the plants, of straw, lawn clippings, or any suitable material keeps the soil from drying out and increases yield. Tomatoes will be killed by a frost, and may be injured by a severe chill, so they should not be exposed to such experience.

BURLINGAME — Thomas A. (Tommy) Carpenter, 18, was killed here Saturday evening.

He was underneath an old car, on which he and a companion were working, when the machine slipped from the jack and pinned him beneath its weight.

While Officers Carl Schwann and Lauren Todd attempted to revive the boy with first aid effort, Officer Fred Cavaglia raced to direct the ambulance to the scene. The accident happened at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and Tommy died at Mills Hospital three hours later, from multiple fractures of the skull.

He succumbed at the San Mateo hospital shortly before he was to have met the train on which his mother was arriving to visit her son before he was called into the service.

Tommy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Carpenter, well-known Burlingame residents for 13 years. Mr. Carpenter is a landscape engineer for the Federal Parks Service, and he was transferred to the Chicago, Ill., office of that department, when the San Francisco office was closed two years ago.

While awaiting his call from the draft board, Tommy had been residing at 818 Acacia Rd., in Burlingame.

Drivers Escape Injury In Redwood City Crash

No injuries resulted in an intersection collision at Jefferson Ave. and El Camino Real Tuesday at 7:19 a.m., Redwood City police reported. Automobiles driven by George M. Shannon, 45, of 808 Vista Dr., Redwood City, and Bernell L. Jolly, 27, 430 Blake St., Menlo Park, were involved in the crash.

Menlo Mayor Reports
Fight for New Housing

Mayor Donald Fisher told the Menlo Park City Council Tuesday that he was making progress toward getting some action on relieving the housing shortage situation.

He reported that he is having a conference with an official of the National Housing Agency next week and hopes to receive approval for a number of H-2 type homes for the area. He added, "I've heard from a reliable source that 120 homes of this type have been approved for the Belle Haven district."

Mayor Fisher read a copy of the bill that Congressman Jack Anderson plans to introduce in the House of Representatives, calling for the annexation of Dibble Hospital by the city.

A. C. and R. W. Dulleck, contractors, appeared before the council to request the action of Max Mielke, building inspector. The contractors and the Menlo Park building inspector entered into a long discussion on the proper interpretations of certain aspects of the building code.

After listening to a long debate on the correct method of installing a water heater Mayor Fisher asked the trio to continue the quarrel outside the meeting.

The council approved plans to incorporate the 10 acres sub-division of the old Rosefield property on Santa Cruz Ave.

Horace Sino was granted a permit to install an underground gas tank on his property at 1001 Santa Cruz Ave. after the council heard reports from Fire Comr. L. M. Brown and Royal Hodges, city health inspector.

The council heard the first reading on the proposed ordinance to place all city employees under civil service.

The council agreed to adjourn until Tuesday, May 8, at the city hall.

Clothes Lost In Moving Van Fire

Moving day for Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clouse and their 4-year-old son ended disastrously on El Camino Real near the Palo Alto High School Tuesday morning when fire destroyed all their household furnishings and clothing piled on a truck that was transporting the family from Sunnyvale to San Carlos.

An unestimated number of war bonds also went up in the blaze that was a noon hour attraction for high school students. The Palo Alto Fire Dept. dispatched a tank car to the burning truck and used up some 100 gallons of water. The truck, which was borrowed by Mr. Clouse for the move, was only slightly damaged but none of the household equipment was saved.

Included in the lost items were such hard-to-replace articles as two radios, sheets, pillow cases and children's clothing.

Wedding Gifts

Tradition exacts that wedding gifts of highest quality should be looked for in the stocks of jewelry stores. The slogan "Gifts That Last" was derived from the fact that jewelry store merchandise primarily has been selected with that idea in mind. The bride, who has the good fortune to have among her friends and loved ones those who wish for her a lifetime of happiness, will find among her wedding presents innumerable articles purchased from jewelry stores, with their modern giftware departments having added scope to selections. Stores To Remain Open Here V-E Day; Bars Shut

The Redwood City Chamber of Commerce Merchants' Section Tuesday recommended "business as usual" for local stores and offices when V-E Day is officially announced.

Today's recommendation counters previous announcements from the merchants' section which had proposed business houses close in observance of the end of the war in Europe, Chamber of Commerce Mgr. E. W. (Ned) Butler said.

"Unless the President or governor proclaims the day an official holiday, the members of the section agreed that the real celebration should await the final armistice in the Pacific, and that in respect to the men on Pacific battle fronts, we should observe the business as usual policy," he declared.

Butler said he presumed the stores would close if the day were proclaimed an official holiday.

All alcoholic beverage establishments in San Mateo County and the six other counties under the jurisdiction of George R. Reilly, member of the State Board of Equalization, were called upon today to close immediately upon the official proclamation of V-E Day by President Truman, and to remain closed for 24 hours after the announcement.

Restaurants, drug stores and grocery stores which will remain open are requested not to sell any alcoholic beverages during the 24-hour period.

Blood Bank Again Elects Sagehorn

A. H. Sagehorn, county treasurer, is among those who will continue to serve as trustees of the San Mateo county blood bank, which held its annual meeting of executive committee and trustees Saturday afternoon in San Mateo.

Re-elected as president was Dr. Carl Hoag for the beginning of the fourth year of the blood bank's existence. During this time it has provided, it was reported, naval hospitals of the Bay Region with 2454 pints of whole blood and 2685 units of plasma. The bank finished its third year with a record showing that 5436 residents had given 11,542 pints of blood.

The county blood bank has on hand 1205 units of plasma distributed and stored in various cities of the county. In the financial statement, the cash balance on hand as of Mar. 31 last, was $28,774.40. Out of this, $13,610 belongs to a permanent replacement fund.

Machinist Charged With Child Neglect

Preston, now in the county jail, is charged with failure to provide for minor children, police said.

His Redwood City address is 1452 Jefferson Ave., while Mrs. Preston's address is 225 Oliver St., Redwood City.

Molotov Visits Stanford

PALO ALTO — Vyacheslav Molotov took a day off from tossing hammers and sickles into the United Nations conference and spent it on an unplanned trip down the Peninsula to visit Stanford University, Sunday.

Tossing "protocol" to the winds, he and some four dozen members of Russia, Yugoslav and Czechoslovak delegations, hopped into automobiles and drove off down the Skyline Blvd. and onto the campus. Some of them got lost and were restored to the convoy by Palo Alto police. They wound up at a Bayshore restaurant eating American food and drinking American cocktails.

The Molotov convoy arrived on the Stanford Campus unheralded. It was pure coincidence that the carillon in the Hoover Library tower was chiming "The Internationale" and "Kol Slaven", numbers included on a program of United Nations music, while the Russians were taking their look-see.

Mr. Molotov, wearing a grey business suit and hat, was accompanied by several husky gentlemen with their hands in bulging pockets. Army cars formed a part of the convoy. The party included a Yugoslav officer in a resplendent uniform and boots. Otherwise, the famous visitors might have been any party of tourists gazing at red-tiled roofs, Hoover's house, Memorial Church and the Hoover Library.

Canning Sugar Rations Delayed

Mrs. Peninah Spence, chief clerk of the Redwood City War Price and Ration Board announced Tuesday that canning sugar rations which were to have been mailed Tuesday morning will be delayed.

She explained that OPA has reduced the canning sugar ration from 20 pounds to 15 pounds per person. The maximum for any one family, formerly 160 pounds, has been cut to 120 pounds.

The Redwood City board had processed approximately 200 canning sugar applications when the new order came in, Mrs. Spence said.

Four hundred and fifty people in the United States die each day of cancer.

Woodside Troop 159 Again Wins Camp-o-rette Trophy

Woodside Troop 159, Boy Scouts of America, captured the coveted cup for all-around excellence again this year at the annual two-day camp-o-rette held at the San Carlos Recreational Park Saturday and Sunday. Chet Wilson, assistant county Boy Scout executive, announced today.

The contest was so close that one half point separated the winners from Troop 143 of Redwood City. More than 325 Scouts and Scouters attended the camp-o-rette with more than 300 parents and friends of scouting visiting the camp during the weekend.

Troops making A plus ratings included 159 of Woodside and 143 of Redwood City, 160 of Redwood City and 154 of San Carlos. Those making A ratings were 107 of Menlo Park, 163 of Atherton, 153 of San Carlos, and 161 of Belmont. B plus ratings were earned by Troops 108, 148, 162 and 164, all of Redwood City.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOBBE

Harper Sibley of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce appointed Marshall Dill and Roger Lapham to represent the national chamber at the San Francisco security conference. But whom did Mrs. Stanley Perkins appoint to represent the Redwood City Commuters Club? Nobody! What are Czechoslovakia and Saudi Arabia going to think when they find there is no delegation from the Redwood City Commuters Club?

President Truman thinks the conference will be a success, in spite of this oversight, so we do not intend to press the issue. In the interest of international amity the Commuters yield their seat to the delegate from Bolivia who, according to Bob Hope, needs it very badly "because he had to stand all the way from South America." It's the first time of record that a Commuter ever gave up his seat to anybody.

The Russians are said to have their own merchant ship anchored in the bay to house their conference delegation. It is supposed to be stocked with native delicacies such as caviar, choice smoked fish and meats, vodka and champagne. Commuters has its points applied, if you can work into the upper brackets. Molotov's delegation, we are told, must avoid social contact with predatory capitalist influences. It is said a "clambake" which the Bohemian Club had arranged at the Grove for the Russians first accepted and then later sent his regrets, presumably on orders from Moscow.

Howard McGee wants to know if our mosquito-abatement tax money is spent to breed bigger and better mosquitoes. It does make one wonder, after encountering the swarms of highly trained panzer divisions in and around Redwood City. They are bigger this year than last, indicating no food rationing. We knocked one down in Curran's rear garden the other night and on examination found him equipped with a one-inch drill, and under his left wing he carried a kit of spare parts including four other drills ranging in length from one-half inch to two inches. We can tell by the size of the bumps which drill they use.

What commuter is so old he has to sit in a rocking chair to water his lawn? . . . Eleanor Ross spent last week in Phoenix, Ariz., attending a sales organization meeting and at the same time taking advantage of the desert air to cure a persistent attack of laryngitis. A commuter who had the wrong date punched on his commute two mornings in a row offered to take the S. P. conductors out to the rifle range and teach 'em marksmanship. . . The conductor offered to go if he could shoot only at commuters. . . Ray Johnson, merchant mariner and charter board member of the Commuters Club, is back from the wars on leave. . . Ray has sailed every sea, but several times.

Please, once again, Commuters, DON'T SWING ON MOVING TRAINS! Our heart almost quit cold the other morning when we saw a man swing on the 6:50 before it had stopped. The platform was crowded with people. The man's body struck an army lieutenant, turned him clear around and threw him into two ladies, both of whom, with the lieutenant, might have been thrown under the train. What a terrible risk this foolish man took, not only with his own life, but with the lives and limbs of others! We repeat—please don't swing on moving trains! Through the co-operation of Lieutenant Carl Ferrell and Mrs. J. S. Garrett, the girls of the Jr. A. W. V. S. have been formed into a first class drill team, at which they practice every Saturday at 9:30 a.m. and every Monday at 4:45 p.m. in the Mt. Carmel school yard. Mrs. Montell Bigler urges all the girls to attend these meetings regularly. She says the girls have taken on an assignment to make 100 infants' gowns for navy relief work, and are preparing again to sell bonds and stamps, in the 7th war loan drive. Most of you commuters haven't any idea the swell job a few of your colleagues are doing for the youth of Redwood City. You ought to go to a cub pack meeting some time, as we did Friday night at McKinley school; and other meetings and see for yourself. You will see very few commuters but a lot of fine boys. To fellows like Guido Simoni, Wrex Cruse, Bert Morgan, Ray Cereghino, Wayne Burke, Walter Shugert and others who give so generously of their time for very little credit from the rank and file, all we can say is: "Nice pitching, fellows! You're doing a swell job."

To Receive Son's Medals

Mrs. J. H. Canfield, mother of T/Sgt. Joseph J. Canfield who is a prisoner of war in Germany, will go to Hamilton Field Saturday afternoon to receive the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Clusters on behalf of her son, she said today. Canfield was downed in action over Germany on June 13, and was declared a prisoner of war a month later. He was aerial gunner and radio operator on a Liberator based in Italy. He is a Sequoia High School graduate. His cousin, 1st Lt. Robert H. Canfield, was recently killed on Saipan when the B-29 on which he was a bombardier and navigator, crashed in a take-off. Over thirty three American buildings does the flag fly officially night and day — over the Capitol and the adjacent House of Representatives and Senate office buildings.

Sergeant Keenan Is Safe In An English Hospital

The sergeant who has moved so quickly in the last four months that the War Department hasn't caught up with him is in a hospital in England awaiting transportation back to the United States and his home in Redwood City, a V-Mail letter informed his mother Wednesday.

Sgt. Edward Keenan of 122 King St. was reported missing on Dec. 24 and since then his parents, the Peter D. Keenans, have heard directly from him rather than through the War Department, which has apparently lost trace of the 30-year-old infantryman.

Keenan announced last month through a post card that he was a German prisoner of war. Only 13 days ago, Chicago Tribune War Correspondent Henry Wales reported that the local sergeant was one of our Bay Area men liberated when the British Seventh Armored Division swept through the area near Bremen. Keenan was one of 25,000 Allied prisoners freed from the dreaded Pullinghoof prison.

In his letter today, the sergeant reports that his feet were frozen severely after the Germans had removed most of his personal articles and shoes soon after capture during the Belgian bulge. Unable to walk, Keenan was flown from Germany to England, where he is slowly regaining his health. The local soldier lost 50 pounds during his imprisonment and is now down to 110 pounds. He states that he is being well taken care of, however, and "there's no need to worry." Keenan's wife and 8-month-old daughter are in Waco, Tex., awaiting further word as to the sergeant's arrival. They will probably return to Redwood City. Keenan graduated from Sequoia High School in 1931 and was employed by a steamship company in San Francisco prior to entering the army three years ago. He has been overseas since October, 1944.

"Please don't be too shocked at my appearance, Keenan warned his mother. "I'm not much to look at right now, but it won't take me long to recover."

A veteran of the famed Seventh Infantry Division, Keenan participated in the battles of Attu, Kiska, Kwajalein, Leyte and Okinawa. According to his brief note dated April 19, he is getting along "as well as can be expected" and hopes to be moved to a regular hospital soon. The 28-year-old soldier has been overseas more than two years. His wife, the former Anna Phillips, lives in Merced, Gonzales enlisted in the army more than four years ago. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Toledo and Mercedes Garcia live in Redwood City. Mrs. Toledo's husband, Placido, recently received an honorable discharge from the United States Marine Corps.

He was in the service for a year and was stationed for the last three months on Mare Island. The ex-marine is employed at the Delachi Garage on Woodside Rd. The Todes have two children, Emily and Richard.

Sue San Mateo For Bond Payment

Four holders of Series 84, street improvement bonds in San Mateo Monday, asked superior court to issue a writ of mandate ordering the City of San Mateo, its city councilmen and City Treas. Charles A. Ginnever to transfer money from the general fund to the bond redemption fund in order to pay delinquent assessments and interests on property for which the bonds are held and to make good the bonds.

Filing a petition for writ of mandate today were Robert Barlow, who owns $12,300 worth of bonds; Hilda P. Calvin, $5000 worth; Robert Weide, $3000, and Fred Allen, $1000. The bonds are matured and are unpaid, they claim. Interest rate is 5 per cent from July 2, 1942.

Assessment liens against the property for which the bonds are held amount to $38,069.97. The city had a cash balance on Dec. 31, 1944, of $363,060.39, and the petitioners ask that this net cash balance be held as a general fund from which a transfer to the bond redemption fund may be made, as provided by the bond act of 1935.

How to prepare produce for Baby

Baby's ABC's start now with vitamins instead of blocks. Baby must get his or her full share in order to have a good start . . . and these directions will help you preserve all the nutrients necessary for Baby's growth.

PUREEING VEGETABLES AND FRUITS

Cut vegetables and fruits into uniform pieces; place in saucepan; add just enough water to create steam. Cover tightly; steam until vegetables and fruits are just tender, no longer. Lag cooking destroys the nutrients. Cool thoroughly before pureeing. This prevents loss of vitamins through oxidation.

Press through special puree, colander, or sieve with wooden spoon. Avoid stirring. Be sure to include what water is left in the cooking pan. There should be very little, but it is vitamin- and mineral-rich.

Store pureed products in covered sterilized glass or crockery jars in cold place. Prepare only enough for one day's supply at a time, as longer storage means loss of vitamins. Heat only enough for one meal at a time, as reheating is also destructive of the food elements. (Note: The same rules of vitamin protection apply to diced vegetables and pureed ones.)

CREAM OF VEGETABLE SOUP

1/2 cup milk 1 to 2 tbsps. butter
1/2 cup pureed vegetable

Combine milk and vegetables (spinach, peas, carrots, asparagus, celery, string beans). Heat just to boiling and add butter. Makes 1 cup soup.

LIVER SOUP

1/4 cup very finely ground raw carrots, 1/4 cup (2 oz.) finely celery and parsley ground liver

Cook vegetables in water in covered pint saucepan until tender, about 10 minutes. Cool. Strain soup; puree vegetables. Combine and heat to boiling. Add liver, cover and simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes 1 cup soup. NOTE: Do not soak liver. Any vegetable combination can be used.

Artificial Eye Forecast By Officer From Dibble In Exchange Club Talk

A young army captain—one of three dental corps officers who developed the army's near-perfect plastic eye—Tuesday predicted that someday man will build an artificial eye that will see.

Speaking at the Exchange Club, Capt. Stanley Erph of Dibble Hospital declared: "What man can imagine, he can accomplish. Someday somebody will come along with an artificial eye that will see—believe me."

The captain displayed some of the plastic eyes which he helped develop. Pointing to the magic of infrared photography and electronics, Captain Erph said it was within the scope of human imagination to build a plastic eye with a sensitized film of some kind which would, in effect, see. The more difficult task of connecting this seeing-eye to the optical nerve presented a problem for the surgeons.

Already, he said, experiments are underway to attach the muscles of the eye to artificial eyes. He pointed out that these muscles are now sutured and formed into a sort of stump, which is able to give the present army artificial eye about 50 percent normal movement, although it is somewhat slower than natural movement.

Two and a half years ago the army dentist, stationed in England, was confronted with the emergency shortage of artificial glass eyes produced by a tight German monopoly. The dentist was familiar with the use of plastic materials in making artificial teeth, which require natural coloring and careful fitting to the individual. He hit upon the idea of making a plastic eye.

His efforts were so successful that he instructed 50 men in the art before being ordered back to the United States to carry on his work.

Here he met two other dental corps officers, Maj. Victor H. Dietz and Maj. Milton S. Wirtz, who had been conducting experiments simultaneously along the same lines.

At Valley Forge General Hospital they continued their research, perfected their technique, and instructed 18 students. The research continues in three general hospitals, including Dibble, and many other hospitals in this country and in Europe are making plastic eyes. The procedure is being established in the South Pacific, Captain Erph said.

The plastic eye has many advantages over the German-controlled glass eye, he contended. The glass eye is not only breakable from accidental dropping, but it will break in the eye-socket under certain conditions. Glass is soluble in water and tears will etch the surface within a relatively short time. The glass eye must be continually buffed, gradually wears thin, and being hollow, eventually collapses. Sudden temperature changes may cause it to collapse in the eye-socket. Life of the ordinary glass eye is from six months to two years. Chief advantage of the army plastic eye is that it is unbreakable, Captain Erph said. Its construction is anatomically correct. Veins are represented by rayon threads realistically frayed into the eye-ball. Colors are locked under the surface, and the black pupil is represented by a plastic button behind the retina.

The army has no stockpile of glass eyes. Each restoration is tailored to the individual. Only disadvantage of the plastic eye is that under certain "black light" conditions, it is invisible to the normal human eye. This illusion, he explains, is common in night clubs under fluorescent lighting. The phenomenon was first noticed with plastic teeth.

Captain Erph was introduced by Dr. Rollo LaBerge.

Estranged Husband Stabbed in Fight

Ired because he found another man at the home of his divorced wife when he went to her home to visit their two children, Francis J. Schube, 390 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, a shipyard worker, engaged in a fracas Sunday, which resulted in his being stabbed in the neck and right forearm.

John M. Rogers, 45, 1042 Pine St., Menlo Park, garageman and state guardman, who assertedly did the stabbing, was held in the county jail here Monday on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore said Schube told him that at 6 p.m. Sunday he went to the home of his divorced wife, Rochelle, 849 University Dr., Menlo Park, to see his children, 6 and 7 years old, and that when he arrived he found Rogers. The two engaged in an argument and started shoving each other around, Whitmore said. Rogers, a smaller man than Schube, pulled a knife from his pocket and stabbed Schube. Rogers suffered a sprained ankle in the fracas.

Schube went to Palo Alto Hospital for treatment but was not admitted.

The Schubes divorce became final Sept. 30, 1943.

Name McDonough Passenger Agent

James J. McDonough of Millbrae has been appointed Southern Pacific district passenger agent for the Peninsula area from South San Francisco to Sunnyvale, succeeding J. H. Pruett, Jr., of Menlo Park, it was announced today.

Pruett has been advanced to special representative in the passenger traffic department, San Francisco. McDonough, who will have his headquarters in Palo Alto, was formerly traveling passenger agent in the

AT HOME ON THE RANGE

"PARDON me for drooling," says Seaman 1/c Domenico Granata, who can hardly wait until the spaghetti's done. Stationed in the cowboy and chili country at Norman, Oklahoma, he's been a long time wanting some real Italian-style spaghetti. When his wife discovered she could use the USO club kitchen to stir up her husband's favorite dish, Seaman Granata came on the double.

G.I. Joe gets a big helping of morale along with every meal served by his wife in a club. That's why salt and pepper, chili powder, garlic and spice are just as handy as the ping pong tables in USOs.

Besides keeping in tune on the old-standby recipes which they bring from home, wives trade cooking tricks with other military missuses from different parts of the country. Sirens Will Not Blow on V-E Day

Mayor W. W. Hilton today acknowledged receipt of an order from the commanding general of the Western Defense Command prohibiting the use of any air raid siren device announcing V-E Day.

"As the members of the Redwood City council at a meeting some time ago expressed the opinion that V-E Day should be observed as a day of somber contemplation rather than of noisy public celebration, and believing that was the sentiment of our people, there will probably be no local announcement regarding victory other than may appear in the press or over the radio," Mayor Hilton said.

The general's order has been transmitted throughout the Western Defense Command, Mayor Hilton stated.

general passenger office, San Francisco. In that position, he supervised the Peninsula commuter service.

McDonough, one-time president of the San Francisco Passenger Club, began working for the Southern Pacific in 1932 at Emeryville. He has been employed in the operating and traffic departments.

R.C. Pair United After Three Years

Mrs. Charles Reganess of 140 King St. is with her husband again Wednesday after a separation of over three years. Mr. Reganess arrived Wednesday in San Pedro from Manila, where as a Swiss citizen and manager of the Manila Gas Works, he was forced to work under Japanese domination since the fall of the Philippines.

Mrs. Reganess, sister of Mr. Francis Timney of Redwood City, left on Monday night for the South. She and her husband are now at the Park Chapman Hotel in Los Angeles and expect to arrive in Redwood City in two or three days, according to Mr. Timney today. The Reganess' and their young daughter, Carleen, resided in Manila until conditions became such that Mrs. Reganess and Carleen came to live in Redwood City.

Atherton Cook Jailed

Edmond Lamarque, 56-year-old cook in an Atherton restaurant, was arrested on charges of drunken driving by Redwood City police Monday night. Lamarque was taken into custody at Main St. near Stambaugh St.

DePatta Suit Against OPA

Frank A. DePatta, Redwood City real estate agent, Tuesday sued the District Office of Price Administration for $300 damages for charging him with violation of rent ceilings.

DePatta filed an answer to the damage action filed by the OPA in Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAuliffe's court, in which he generally denied charges brought against him. Mrs. Carmelita Newell, 719 Stambaugh St., signed the complaint, alleged that DePatta asked $35 monthly rent when legal rent is $27.50.

DePatta alleged that no facts warranted or justified the filing of the action by the OPA, that the filing of the suit "has damaged and injured defendant in the conduct and operation of his business as a duly licensed realtor to the as a damage and injury in the sum of $500, by questioning his method and manner of doing business, and charging that defendant collected rents from C. Newell, when in truth and fact any payments made by the said C. Newell in connection with said property were made pursuant to agreement between said C. Newell and George Cardoza, and all payments made by said C. Newell received by defendant were credited to said Cardoza on account of said agreement of sale."

Cardoza is with the armed forces in the South Pacific. A request for contributions to the American Cancer Society was filed. A letter from the Blue Network was received by the council thanking the members for the note in appreciation of the fine work done by all broadcasting stations during the period immediately following the death of President Roosevelt.

Methodists Will Build

Today, the Methodist Church is launching a building program calling for an investment of $35,000.

A new unit, consisting of an assembly room and five class rooms, was completed only a few months ago. At the same time improvements were made in the former church plant to provide more room. The increased activities and a growing congregation demand further additions.

Reginald Inwood, a church architect, of Los Angeles, has drawn plans to complete the church plant. The new plans call for a new social hall, a church parlor, a kindergarten and beginners' department, a large department room with classrooms and other appointments. The plan also calls for a large sanctuary, with double the present seating capacity.

Dr. Irvin A. Engle, minister of the church, said today that most of the canvassing for funds will be done today and tomorrow. Visiting Methodist ministers from the Bay Area will be teamed up with local church laymen to give the membership and friends of the church an opportunity to subscribe to the new project. Mr. Donald L. Eogle, chairman of the local special committee of the official board is director of the campaign.
